CONGRESS CONVENES

Opening Day of the Second Session.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE READ.

A Number of Bills Introduced and Referred—Nothing of Any Importance Done in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—The continuous hum of conversation rose from the floor of the hall of the house of representatives to the crowded galleries all through the half hour yesterday that preceded the time for the assembling of the second session of the Fifty-second congress. There was a good attendance on both sides of the hall and much good natured badinage about the recent election flew across the central aisle. On the desk of the speaker was a pyramid of flowers, and there were other floral pieces on the desks of Representatives Kerr of Pennsylvania, Henman, Harmer, Flick, Wilson of West Virginia, Atkinson of West Virginia, Vaux and Flower.

One minute before noon the speaker entered the hall and mounted the steps to the speaker's chair. The tap of his gavel brought the house to order as the hands of the clock marked noon. Chaplain Milburn delivered a brief prayer and then the clerk began to call the roll by states.

At the finish of the roll call the newly elected members were sworn in.

A committee was then appointed to wait upon the president and inform him that the house was ready to receive any message he might have for that body.

A recess was then taken until 1:30. During the recess, pages were kept busy carrying into the chamber handsome floral designs, and many desks were completely hidden beneath their perfumed burdens.

At the expiration of the recess the committee consisting of Mr. Cannon and O'Neil of Pennsylvania, and Mills appointed to wait upon the president, announced that that officer would communicate with congress forthwith. A few moments later, Mr. Pruden, one of the president's secretaries, was announced, the president's annual message was received, and it was immediately read by the clerk.

The reading of the document consumed an hour and a half and at the conclusion of the reading the Republicans warmly applauded.

On motion of Mr. McKinley, of Ohio, the message was referred to the committee of the whole.

Mr. Morrow, of California, from the committee on appropriations reported the pension appropriation bill and it was referred to the committee of the whole.

Mr. Flower, of New York, introduced a joint resolution directing the secretary of the interior to order the retaking of the New York census. A long preamble to the resolution sets forth the controversy had in this matter between the government and the New York state officials.

Mr Cummings introduced a resolution of like character.

Mr. Cutcheon of Michigan, introduced a joint resolution authorizing the secretary of war to issue 1,000 rifles and ammunition for them to the state of South Dakota to enable the state to assist the United States government in protecting citizens and their property against the depredations of the Indians.

Other bills were introduced as follows:

By Mr. Townsend, of Colorado, to provide for the free coinage of silver. The bill provides that after its passage the unit value in the United States shall be the dollar, to be coined of 412 grains of standard silver, or of 25.8 grains of standard gold, these coins to be legal tender for all debts, public and private. That hereafter any owner of silver or gold bullion may deposit it at any United States mint to be formed into standard dollars or bars for his benefit without charge, but it shall be lawful to refuse any deposit of less than $100 value.

The bill provides further that any holder of the coin authorized by this bill, may deposit it with the treasurer or any assistant treasurer of the United States, in sums not less than $10, and receive therefore certificates, the coin deposited for the certificates to be retained for their payment. The bill is to take effect thirty days after its passage.

By Mr. Vandevere, to cede the arid lands to the territories and lands in which they are situated, and to provide for irrigation and the protection of forest and pasturage lands, also provide for the purchase of a site and the erection of suitable buildings for a military post at San Diego, Cal. The appropriation not to exceed $300,000.

By Mr. Bartine, of Nevada, for the free coinage of silver and the issue of coin certificates.

By Mr. Lodge, of Massachusetts, to regulate immigration.

By Mr Pickler, of South Dakota, to provide for the free coinage of gold and silver bullion and for other purposes.

By Mr Buchanan, of New Jersey, appointing commissioners to revise the statutes relating to patents, trade marks, etc. The bill provides that the commissioner of patents and the delegates from the United States to the international conference held at Madrid in 1890, the commissioners to revise the statutes concerning patents, trade and other marks, the statutes so amended to be reported to congress.

By Mr Pickler, of South Dakota, granting a service pension to persons serving in the army, navy or marine corps of the United States during the war of 1861.

By Mr Clements, of Georgia, for the free and unlimited coinage of standard silver dollars.

By Mr Pickler, of South Dakota, providing that no person [illegible] rolls shall receive less than $[illegible] per month.

By Mr Coleman, of Louisiana appropriating $3,000,000 to repair and build the levees on the Mississippi river to afford ease and safety to its commerce and to prevent destructive floods and improve navigation.

By Mr. McCreary, of Kentucky, to place tin and tin plate, agricultural implements and edged tools, wool tools for men's and women's clothing, binder twine, blankets, salt and cotton ties on the free list.

By Mr. Bland, of Missouri, for the free coinage of silver.

By Mr. Carter, of Montana, amending the act of May 26, 1882, authorizing the receipt of United States gold coin in exchange for gold bars, so as to read as follows: [illegible] assay offices of the United States [illegible] may, with the approval of the director of the mint, receive United States gold coin in sums not less than $5,000 and pay and deliver in exchange gold bars in value equalling the coin received, provided that the director of the mint with the approval of the secretary of the treasury may impose a charge equal to the cost of manufacturing the bars."

By Mr. Wike, of Illinois, a joint resolution instructing the committee on ways and means to report bills abolishing all increases in the rates of tariff duties occasioned by the enactment of the McKinley bill, and to place upon the free list, wool, lumber, salt and various other articles of raw material and prime necessity and to provide for all deficits in the treasury by a graduated tax upon incomes in excess of $5,000. The committee is also instructed to report a bill to provide for raising all additional revenue that may become necessary for the requirements of the treasury, by reason of a reduction in the rates of tariff duty, as herein contemplated, or to meet any other deficiency in the treasury arising from any cause whatever, by a graduated tax upon all incomes of all persons, corporations, trusts and associations in excess of the sum of $5,000.

(A preamble to the bill says that the people of the country have at the recent election most emphatically repudiated the policy and principles of taxation and protection embodied in the enactment known as the McKinley law, and have by an overwhelming majority at such elections unmistakably demanded lower taxes and cheaper necessaries of life.

The house then adjourned.

The Senate.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—There was a remarkable attendance in the senate chamber at noon when Vice President Morton called the senate to order. Thirty-eight Republican and twenty-three Democratic senators rose in their places as the chaplain, Rev. J. G. Butler, began the invocation. On the desk of Senator Voorhees was a huge floral piece. In the middle of a bed of roses rested a mound of white and purple immortelles, on which were the words "D. W. Voorhees, Indiana." Surmounting this mound was a huge rooster.

At the conclusion of the prayer, Senator Hoar sent to the desk of the presiding officer the credentials of Senator-elect Carey, of the new state of Wyoming. They were read at length. Mr. Hoar then sent up the credentials of Mr. Carey's colleague, Mr. Warren, which were read. The two senators were then led to the desk of the presiding officer, where Vice President Morton read the oath to them from a printed slip which he held in his left hand. When the oath had been administered orally Chief Clerk Johnson placed the written oath before each of them, and they signed it. Then they walked unescorted to their desks, which are in the last row on the Republican side of the chamber between the desks of Mr. Power and Mr. Higgins. For several minutes the new senators held a reception and shook the hands of one after another of their fellow-senators.

While this reception was being held, Senator Edmunds offered in succession two resolutions, to which the senate agreed. One of them declared noon the regular hour of meeting and the other directed the secretary of the senate to inform the house of representatives that the senate was assembled. A resolution offered by Mr. Cullom for a committee of two to wait on the president was agreed to.

Mr. Hoar then offered a resolution to proceed to determine by lot to what classes the two new senators should belong. The numbers 1, 2 and 3 were put in a box together and Mr. Carey drew 2 and Mr. Warren 1. The term of Mr. Carey, therefore, will expire in 1895, and that of Mr. Warren in 1893.

The senate then took a recess to 1:30, to await the report of the committee appointed to call on the president.

At 1:30 Vice President Morton called the senate to order. A minute later the committee appointed to wait on the president, Senators Cullom and Harris appeared in the center aisle and Senator Cullom announced that the president would communicate with the senate in writing. Executive Clerk Pruden then entered the door and, addressing the presiding officer, delivered the package containing the president's annual message. It was carried to the desk by Capt. Bassett and opened by the chief clerk. Secretary McCook began immediately to read it. Most of the senators of both parties remained in their seats and listened carefully to the reading of the document. The reading of the message occupied one hour and fifteen minutes and at the conclusion of its reading the senate adjourned.

SIOUX ON THE MOVE.

The Stampede of the Rosebud Indians Complete.

MARCHING INTO BAD LANDS.

They Will Then Probably Halt and Defy the Soldiers to Stop Their Ghost Dancing—Many Horses and Cattle Stolen by the Marauders.

PINE RIDGE AGENCY, S. Dak., Dec. 2.—The stampede of Rosebud Indians is now complete. Emboldened by the inactivity of the military, the Sioux from the old Spotted Tail agency have crossed White river and are moving north along the stream to the hills. The redskins are so near the Bad lands it would not take them long to get into the barren fastnesses at the first approach of the troops, and by traveling slowly along the river they can get good grazing for their stock.

In their stampede the Indians have swept all the ranches in the White, Clay, and Wounded Knee country. Hundreds of horses and beeves have been stolen. One of the Rosebud police officers, who has been following the big band of marauders had his horse shot from under him. Many of the Little Wound's people are with the Rosebuds, Little Wound is not with the party, which is now reported to be 1,000 strong. The troops have not yet received orders to move on the marauders.

These Bad lands begin at the mouth of Wounded Knee creek, of which so much has been heard of late, and which is the gathering point for all these hostiles and where the ghost dance started upon this reservation. They run 110 miles northeast to southwest and fifty miles east to west. It is an utterly barren region of precipitous canons and fantastic and ghostly formations. Few white men are acquainted with the region, the Indian, however, knowing it thoroughly. The fact that it is possible for the Indians when once established there as they now are, to commence raiding raids upon the settlers adjoining the Bad lands, will certainly, it would seem, induce the soldiers to pursue into the region after this big thieving band of redskins, notwithstanding the [illegible] chances to be incurred.

The scouts that brought information concerning [illegible] of the hostiles [illegible] the latter had just slaughtered 500 head of government cattle and 300 belonging to Governor Mellette, of South Dakota. The scouts saw this beef being loaded on wagons and taken to the new camp in the Bad lands, where wagon loads of flour and other provisions that had been stolen from the settlers were also loaded for the [illegible] of death.

Gen. Brooke has just received a telegram of 700 words from Gen. Ruger warning him that 300 lodges, about 1,000 warriors of Cheyennes were coming from [illegible] agency to join the hostiles near here. The Sixth cavalry en route from Albuquerque to Fort Meade, has been ordered to stop at [illegible] Sill, where another ghost dance fever has broken out.

Settlers Getting Scared.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Dec. 2.—A special from Dickinson, N. Dak., says: The Indian trouble are causing much alarm to the people in [illegible] west of here. [illegible] twenty miles west, were surprised [illegible] settlers with [illegible] coming in from all [illegible] were all very scared having heard that the Indians were [illegible] river, [illegible] miles south. The situation was so alarming that a [illegible] arrived here from Belfield to consult with the authorities and learn the truth of the situation.

There is good authority for saying that a band of Indians are congregating on the Grand river and are acting suspiciously. The alarm among the women and children at Belfield is such that they won't be [illegible] only when the men keep [illegible] watch. A mass meeting was held there yesterday and a delegation will be sent to confer with the governor. This place is contiguous to an extensive stock country consisting of several ranches [illegible] several miles apart. Should the Indians commence [illegible] they could create great havoc. A mass meeting is called at the court house here tomorrow night to take action looking toward protection.

Two Indians Lynched.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 2.—The Journal's Chamberlain, S. Dak., special says: Two squaw men lying on Battle river were lynched [illegible] day ago. Cattle stealing has been going on and investigation [illegible] pointed to these two men as the guilty parties. The vigilance committee has been carrying things with a high hand for some time and there is considerable excitement.

Crossing the Boundary.

FIRE LOSSES.

One Fireman Killed and Several Injured in Philadelphia—Other Fires.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 2.—The [illegible] day afternoon by the extensive [illegible] factory establishment of the A. Campbell Manufacturing company, [illegible] yarns, located on the canal bank at the foot of [illegible] street. A heavy [illegible] damage amounting to $300,000 [illegible] fireman was killed and three others were badly hurt by falling walls.

Charles Snyder, aged 40 years, foreman of engine company No. 1, was buried under a mass of bricks and timbers and instantly killed.

The injured were: Joseph Cutter, aged 36, of engine company No. [illegible] crushed; Edwin M. Schofield, aged [illegible], hoseman, skull fractured, leg [illegible] and injured internally, and John Cotflesh, hoseman, injured internally.

Charles Hessins and William Spencer, who were in an upper floor, succeeded in working their way through the debris to a window and were safely lowered to the ground.

The three upper floors of the building were occupied by Albert Cronshaw, manufacturer of flannels and dress goods. Their loss is $50,000. The Campbell company lose $250,000. The losses are probably nearly covered by insurance.

There were about 300 persons employed in the mill, all of whom escaped in safety when the fire started.

Incendiaries at Work.

NASHUA, N. H., Dec. 2.—Fire in Besom's block yesterday afternoon caused a loss of $60,000. A second fire occurred in C. A. Leabarus' laundry on Water street, doing $2,500 damage.

A dastardly attempt was made last night by incendiaries to set fire to the postoffice building, a kerosene lamp being broken in the out-house, and a fire was started at the basement of the engine house while both firemen were at work outside. Both fires were discovered in time to prevent much loss. There is much excitement over these attempts at incendiarism.

Last night fire was discovered in the basement of the First Baptist church, an incendiary having broken in the back windows, filled a box with inflammable material and applied the torch. The damage was slight.

The mayor has increased the force of police, and business men will assist in patrolling their own property.

EXPLOSION OF NATURAL GAS.

An Accident to the Mercer County Pipe Line That Greatly Interfered With the Gas Supply of Dayton, Piqua, Troy, Springfield, the National Military Home and State Insane Asylum—Other State News.

DAYTON, Dec. 2.—The accident on the Mercer county pipe line that deprived the city of natural gas two days last week occurred on S. B. Freshour's farm near Covington, Miami county, about twenty-five miles north of here. A section of the twelve-inch main, twenty-one and three-quarter feet, burst with a terrific report that was heard for miles, and the farmers of all that neighborhood were greatly alarmed, fearing a general blow up.

At the instant of the explosion a great blue cloud of gas shot into the air and spread over the farm like an umbrella. The heavy pipe was ripped its full length, bent into V shape, thrown seventy-five feet up, then falling, buried itself eighteen inches in the ground. The scene was like that of a volcano in eruption, scattering clods of earth and dust and rock from the couplings over the area of an acre, and leaving an open trench or crater nearly one hundred feet long. This left only an eight-inch pipe line to supply Dayton, Piqua, Troy, Springfield, the National military home and state insane asylum. The small line being then overtaxed, an accident resulted that still further crippled the supply of these cities and institutions.

State Decennial Board.

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 2.—The members of the state decennial board of equalization have nearly all arrived in Columbus. There were numerous candidates for positions under the board, which is composed of twenty-one Republicans and fifteen Democrats. L. Hempton, of Hardin; first assistant, H. K. Hodgeman, of Cuyahoga; second assistant, William A. Vene, of Lucas; sergeant-at-arms, C. H. Williams, of Fairfield; first assistant, Lewi McAlister, of Washington; second assistant, Joseph R. Swartz, of Ashland.

Faced Death Rather Than the Court.

MOUNT VERNON, O., Dec. 2.—Jesse Headington, aged 67, committed suicide by the arsenic route to escape being brought into court on the charge of attempt to ravish Maud Reed, aged 14. The girl was employed in the kitchen at the Headington's boarding house, and was assaulted Thanksgiving Day. Headington admitted that he offered the girl money for improper purposes, but denied the assault.

A "Doctor" Tarred and Feathered.

CANTON, O., Dec. 2.—At Mineral Point, sixteen miles south of Canton, indignant citizens broke into the lockup Saturday night and taking Dr. Robinson out gave him a coat of tar and feathers and then ordered him to leave town. Robinson landed in the village some time ago and his scandalous conduct with a number of women led to his arrest for immorality. He has left for parts unknown.

Killed Three Horses.

DAYTON, O., Dec. 2.—The midnight Big Four express killed three horses owned by David Baker, a farmer, four miles south of this city. The horses had in some way gotten out of the field and ran along the track a half mile to a canal bridge where the train killed them.

TERRIBLE DESTITUTION.

Flood Sufferers in China Starving—Other Foreign News.

LONDON, Dec. 2.—Advices received from Tien Tsin, via Vladivostok, state that a vast number of the people in Tien Tsin and vicinity are in the condition of terrible destitution, owing to the recent floods. They are desperate from starvation, and are menacing the European residents with massacre and plunder.

They threaten to march upon Pekin and loot that city after plundering the Europeans in their own province. Four Chinese war ships, one French and one American, are at the spot ready to protect the foreigners.

A King's Funeral.

THE HAGUE, Dec. 2.—The funeral of the late King of Holland took place yesterday with imposing ceremonies. An immense procession attended the removal of the body to the Noordeinde palace, amid the booming of cannon and the tolling of bells. All public buildings and most of the private dwellings bore symbols of mourning, and flags were everywhere at half-mast. The popular outpouring was unprecedented in Holland. The interment takes place on Thursday at Delft.

Extreme Cold Weather.

LONDON, Dec. 2.—Along the shores of the Mediterranean sea severe frosts are reported, something unknown for nearly a quarter of a century. In Spain heavy falls of snow have occurred and the Pyranees are impassable. The rivers of Germany have subsided, but dangerous drift ice is plentiful. At Breman eight persons have been drowned. Property to the value of 3,000,000 marks is estimated to have been destroyed at Posen, Breman and Elberfeld.

Amnesty Granted Socialists.

ROME, Dec. 2.—A royal decree granting a general amnesty has been promulgated. Owing to this decree Andrea Costa, the Socialist deputy, who fled the country, will be enabled to return. He was condemned to three years' imprisonment for resisting the police, but could not be arrested unless the chamber of deputies consented. He disappeared last March while the chamber was considering his case.

Rioting About a Minister.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—A fight occurred recently at a village near Bistritz, in Transylvania, in which several persons were killed. The cause of the fight was somewhat singular. A new pastor was appointed to the village church and the woman of the place opposed his installation on the ground of his personal ugliness. A riot arose, with the results as stated.

Not All Peace.

LONDON, Dec. 2.—Advices from Lisbon are not as favorable to the maintenance of friendly relations with England as had been hoped when the modus vivendi was agreed upon. All political parties are endeavoring to make capital by attacking England and criticising the agreement.

Mutiny on Shipboard.

HOLY HEAD, Dec. 2.—The ship Berlin, Capt. Whitmore, from Liverpool for New York and San Francisco, has put into this port. Half of the ship's crew had mutinied and engaged in fighting among themselves. The local police quelled the disturbance. A fresh crew will be shipped.

All the night guards were on duty. It is supposed the thieves were ex-convicts who knew all about the interior of the prison. The burglary was not discovered till morning.

He says the ghost dancing has closed in the territory and [illegible] is absolutely no possibility of an outbreak.

PROPOSED APPORTIONMENT

The Plan Most Favored by the Republicans of the Committee.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—The Republican members of the house committee have had a conference on the apportionment bill. They have most favored a membership of the house at 345 or 354. The ratio at 345 would be 179,146; the ratio at 350 would be 171,884. The ratio at the plan recommended by Springer, of present membership, would be 186,473. It is to be noticed that under the Springer Democratic plan, the southern states would not get as many members as they would under the ratio of 174,894, and membership of 354, which seems to be most favored by the Republicans of the committee. The following table shows the present membership and the membership which may be recommended by the census committee upon the basis of a house of 345 members.

You put water on the burning timbers, not on the smoke. And if you have catarrh you should attack the disease in the blood, not in your nose. Remove the impure cause, and the local effect subsides. THE reports of Congress are coming again and the Indian war stories will have to cease.

WE give the able message of President Harrison quite complete in this issue. Unlike many messages it is quite readable and certainly a very able document.

THERE are a good many fellows in this city anxiously looking forward to the next Spring election. Of course it will be an important election and then—well, we hardly need to diagram. Of course there will be some evening up to do.

IF there should be a threshing machine trust we should like to know if Congressman Harter, of Mansfield, is in it. Speaking of threshing machines, the democracy worked a good one in November and they threshed nothing but republicans. The farmers exchanges help with them to do the job.

OLD winter seems to be getting her backbone and will soon be braced for a cold spell. We understand very well that this approaches ordinary weather talk, but where one talks of weather they are doing no one any damage. This might be a valuable pointer to several Marion people. Talk weather instead of character.

THE Toledo Commercial thinks we do things differently in America than in England. In referring to the Parnell case the commercial says.

> "In Adam's fall, we sinned all."
> America, admitting the fact, subscribes to this pertinent amendment, which gives the sinner the benefit of the doubt:
> "In Adam's sin, we all joined in."

THE proposition to admit women delegates to the conferences of the Methodist church seems to have carried by a good strong majority. A funny thing is that the German Methodists have voted strongly against the women and threaten to withdraw in the event that women delegates are admitted. The Germans are evidently far from favoring Woman's Rights.

THE people situated some distance from the great chain of lakes on the north do not realize their importance in commerce. The traffic almost surpasses realization. Just now the lake season is closed, and as a result railway freight rates between New York and Chicago have advanced 25 per cent. They will stay there until next May when lake navigation opens again, then the railways will come down to compete with water shipments.

WE may just as well memorize the figures 62,622,250, for that is the population of the great United States of America and her territories. It is the figure that will go into geographies, atlases and histories. For practical use, however, will say sixty-five million, for we always add a few to census figures to round them out and make sure that they are enough. The average citizen will be saying Marion has ten thousand within six months, and it may not be so far out of the way, either.

CATARRH

Is a constitutional and not a local disease, and therefore it cannot be cured by local applications. It requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, working through the blood, eradicates the impurity which causes and promotes the disease, and effects a permanent cure. Thousands of people testify to the success of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a remedy for catarrh when other preparations had failed.

CATARRH

"I will say I have been troubled for several years with that terribly disagreeable disease, catarrh. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla with the very best results. It cured me of that continual dropping in my throat and stuffed up feeling. It has also helped my mother, who has taken it for run down state of health and kidney trouble." MRS. S. D. HEATH, Putnam, Conn.

"I have used Hood's Sarsaparilla for catarrh with very satisfactory results. I have received more permanent benefit from it than from any other remedy I have ever tried." M. E. READ, of A. Read & Son, Wauseon, O.

ADVICE TO CONGRESS

Message of the President to the Present Session.

V[illegible] the House and Senate to [illegible]

[illegible] OF THE TARIFF BILL.

[illegible] OF RECIPROCITY AND STEAMSHIP SUBSIDY.

The Former [illegible] Reiterated With [illegible] Letter to [illegible] Argument in Favor of National [illegible] Telegraph, an International [illegible], a National Bankruptcy Law, Copyright Protection for Foreign Authors, Relief for the Supreme Court, Other Points.

[illegible] have been conducted without revealing, so far as I can ascertain, a single case of defalcation or embezzlement.

An earnest effort has been made to stimulate a sense of responsibility and public duty in all officers and employees of every grade, and the work done by them has almost wholly escaped unfavorable criticism. I speak of these matters with freedom because the credit of this good work is not mine, but is shared by the heads of the several departments with the great body of faithful officers and employees who serve under them. The closest scrutiny of congress is invited to all the methods of administration and to every item of expenditure.

Relations With Foreign Countries.

The friendly relations of our country with the nations of Europe and of the east have been undisturbed, while the ties of good will and common interest that bind us to the states of the western hemisphere have been notably strengthened by the conference held in this capital to consider measures for the general welfare. Pursuant to the invitation authorized by congress, the representatives of every independent state of the American continent and of Hayti met in conference in this capital in October, 1889, and continued in session until the 19th of last April. This important convention marks a most interesting and influential epoch in the history of the western hemisphere. It is noteworthy that Brazil, invited while under an imperial form of government, shared as a republic in the deliberations and results of the conference. The recommendations of this conference were all transmitted to congress at the last session.

The international marine conference which sat at Washington last winter reached a gratifying result. The regulations suggested have been brought to the attention of all the governments represented and the adoption is confidently predicted.

The legislation of congress at the last session is in conformity with the propositions of the conference and the proclamation therein provided for will be issued when the other powers have given notice of their adhesion.

The conference of Brussels, to devise means for suppressing the slave trade in Africa, afforded an opportunity for a new expression of the interest the American people feel in that great work.

The General Tariff Act.

[illegible] No bill was ever framed, I suppose, that in all of its rates and classifications had the full approval even of a party caucus. [illegible] always and necessarily [illegible] compromises [illegible] The present law is [illegible] in its general scope and effect. I think it will justify the support of those who believe that American legislation should conserve and defend American trade and the wages of American workmen.

The misinformation as to the terms of the act which has been so widely disseminated at home and abroad will be corrected by experience, and the evil auguries as to its results confounded by the market reports, the savings banks, international trade balances and the general prosperity of our people. Already we begin to hear from abroad and from our custom houses that the prohibitory effect upon importations imputed to the act is not justified.

The imports at the port of New York for the first three weeks of November were nearly [illegible] per cent. greater than for the same period [illegible] per cent. greater than in the same period of 1888, and so far from being an act to limit exports, I confidently believe that under it we shall secure a larger and more profitable participation in foreign trade than we have ever enjoyed, and that we shall recover a proportionate participation in the ocean carrying trade of the world.

The criticisms of the bill that have come to us from foreign sources may well be rejected [illegible] If these critics [illegible] their own countries in the [illegible] the world, their advocacy [illegible] by speech and other forms of [illegible] of this movement [illegible] a rare exhibition of [illegible]

[illegible] if they sincerely believe [illegible] of a protective tariff [illegible] with their favor [illegible] to their interests.

[illegible] any of our [illegible] advantages that fairly [illegible] position as a [illegible]

than a few [illegible] of the repeal is complete [illegible] and [illegible] we receive [illegible] and hides have passed on [illegible] as shall [illegible] an equivalent to our concessions, a proclamation of that fact [illegible] the transaction; and in the meantime our people have free sugar. [illegible]

The [illegible] for given are very hopeful [illegible] favorable action by the countries from which we receive our large imports of coffee and sugar, and it is [illegible] believed that if steam communication with these countries can be promptly improved and enlarged the next year will show a most gratifying increase in our exports of breadstuffs and provisions, as well as of some important lines of manufactured goods.

In addition to the important bills that became laws before the adjournment of the last session, some other bills of the highest importance were well advanced toward a final vote and now stand upon the calendars of the two houses in favored positions. The present session has a fixed limit, and if these measures are not now brought to a final vote all the work that has been done upon them by this congress is lost.

Postal Telegraph.

The use of the telegraph by the postoffice department as a means for the rapid transmission of written communication is, I believe, upon proper terms quite desirable. The government does not own or operate the railroads, and it should not, I think, own or operate the telegraph lines. It does, however, seem to be quite practicable for the government to contract with the telegraph companies, as it does with the railroad companies, to carry at specified rates such communications as the senders may designate for this method of transmission. I recommend that such legislation be enacted as will enable the postoffice department fairly to test by experiment the advantages of such a use of the telegraph.

As to Federal Elections.

In my last annual message I suggested that the development of the existing law providing a Federal supervision of congressional elections offered an effective method of reforming these abuses. The need of such a law has manifested itself in many parts of the country, and its wholesome restraints and penalties will be useful in all. The constitutionality of such legislation has been affirmed by the supreme court.

Its probable effectiveness is evidenced by the character of the opposition that is made to it. It has been denounced as if it were a new exercise of Federal power and an invasion of the rights of the states. Nothing could be further from the truth. Congress has already fixed the time for the election of members of congress. It has been declared that votes for members of congress must be by written or printed ballot; it has provided for the appointment by the circuit courts in certain cases and upon the petition of a certain number of citizens, of election supervisors, and prescribed the duties of such supervisors.

The same law provides for the appointment of deputy United States marshals to attend at the polls, support the supervisors in the discharge of their duties, and to arrest persons violating the election laws. The provisions of this familiar title of the revised statutes have been put into exercise by both the great political parties, and in the north, as well as in the south, by the filing with the court of the petitions required by law.

It is not, therefore, a question whether we shall have a Federal election law, for we have one and have had for nearly twenty years, but whether we shall have an effective law. The present law stops just short of effectiveness, for it surrenders to the local authorities all control over the certification which establishes the prima facie right to a seat in the house of representatives. This defect should be cured. Equality of representation and the parity of the electors must be maintained, or everything that is valuable in our system of government is lost.

The qualifications of an elector must be sought in the law, not in the opinions, prejudices or fears of any class, however powerful. The path of the elector to the ballot box must be free from the ambush of fear and the enticement of fraud; the count so true and open that none shall gainsay it. Such a law should be absolutely non-partisan and impartial. It should give the advantage to honesty and the control to majorities.

Surely there is nothing sectional about this creed, and if it shall happen that the penalties of laws intended to enforce these rights fall here and not there, it is not because the law is sectional, but because, happily, crime is local and not universal. Nor should it be forgotten that every law, whether relating to elections or to any other subject, whether enacted by the state or by the nation, has force behind it. The courts, the marshal or constable, the posse comitatus, the prison, are all and always behind the law.

One cannot be justly charged with unfriendliness to any section or class who seeks only to restrain violations of law and of personal right. No community will find lawlessness profitable.

But it is said that this legislation will revive race animosities, and some have even suggested that when the peaceful methods of fraud are made impossible they may be supplanted by intimidation and violence.

If the proposed law gives to any qualified elector by a hair's weight more than his equal influence, or detracts by so much from any other qualified elector, it is fatally impeached. But if the law is equal and the animosities it is to evoke grow out of the fact that some electors have been accustomed to exercise the franchise for others as well as for themselves, then these animosities ought not to be confessed without shame, and cannot be given any weight in the discussion without dishonor.

No choice is left to us but to enforce with vigor all laws intended to secure to the citizen his constitutional rights and to recommend that the inadequacies of such laws be promptly remedied. If to promote with zeal and ready interest every project for the development of its material interests, its rivers, harbors, mines and factories, and the intelligence, peace and security under the law of its communities, and its homes is not accepted as sufficient evidence of friendliness to any state or section, I can not add connivance at election practices that not only disturb local results, but rob the electors of other states and sections of their most priceless political rights.

Appropriations.

The preparation of the general appropriation bills should be conducted with the greatest care and the closest scrutiny of expenditures. Appropriations should be adapted to the needs of the public service, but they should be absolutely free from prodigality.

I venture again to remind you that the brief time remaining for the consideration of the important legislation now awaiting your attention offers no margin for waste. If the present duty is discharged with diligence, fidelity and courage the work of the Fifty-first congress may be confidently submitted to the considerate judgment of the people.

BENJAMIN HARRISON.

PUT MONEY IN THY PURSE

It is the task that everybody is at, though all do not succeed. It is not much trouble to get it, but the difficulty is to get it in the purse to accumulate. We can help you. Everybody is selling or talking about selling very cheap. We actually do it, sell so that you can save money. We realize the disappointments of a slow season, and, though we have done a handsome business, we want to blear off a heavy stock while it is still seasonable. When we say we are giving exceedingly low prices we mean it, as a long and straightforward business career here has attested.

$10.00.—On every $10 00 purchase we will actually save you enough to buy a really handsome Christmas gift, and we have, too, some very practical and acceptable gifts to sell.

BUSINESS AND FUN

The City Council Combines the Two and Succeeds in Having an Enjoyable Session.

For an unsalaried body the city council sometimes resembles state legislatures to a remarkable extent in prolonging its sessions without accomplishing a great amount of business But Monday was the first real bracing night, atmospherically, the present council had, and the transition from the ennuye and apathetic feeling produced by the hot and police-agitated months of summer was apparent. The body got down to work at 8 o'clock and between business, a little facetia and a few aromatic cigars from the lobby, had what appeared to be an enjoyable session

At the roll call there were present the mayor, clerk and all members except Saiter and he got in in time for business The minutes of previous meetings were read and approved and street and alley business taken up

The petition of August Stark and others asking relief from the backwaters of Goose Creek, caused by insufficient outlet on East street, was reported upon by Chairman Kling. He stated that the county commissioners had agreed to put another tile in at East street, and thereby afford relief, and council took no action in the matter.

The proposed Leader street extension, which has been in the hands of the street and alley committee several weeks, was referred to, and Mr Kling stated that he was expecting a conference with the superintendents of the railroads soon, when he could make some definite report in regard to the work and cost of getting over the railroads. The question of drainage or a small amount of ditching for the same street was referred to and the matter was given into the hands of the street and alley committee by motion, with power to act.

A resolution providing for the construction of suitable sidewalks on Harrison street, in accordance with the provisions of the general ordinance, passed the formalities and was adopted.

Ordinances providing for the establishment of grades on Davids and Mound streets, were passed separately These streets are in Joseph Uncapher's new addition in West Marion, and the grades are to be made at private expense

The petition of V A Berry and others, asking that a small tile drain be run on Canal street to Goose Creek, to carry off some of the surplus water, was presented and caused some lively argument. Isleib championed the cause of the petitioners with his usual vehemence, while Blake argued that Goose Creek already had more water than it could take care of, which could not be controverted Isleib made a motion to refer the matter to the street and alley committee with power to act, which was lost by a tie vote He then moved to refer it to the committee without the power of action, and the motion carried, with Blake casting the only dissenting vote

The usual number of monthly bills were reported by the committee on accounts, which was ordered paid with a couple exceptions A bill of the waterworks company precipitated a great deal of discussion in regard to the condition of streets where trenching had been done Superintendent Stillwell, of the Scioto Water Co, was present, and he and Chairman Kling, of the street and alley committee, held the argument of the evening, which was not fruitful of anything perceptible.

The building committee reported in favor of accepting the new city prisons, which report was accepted by council and an order instructed to be drawn on the treasurer to the amount of the cost of construction The committee reported that Lane Bros had faithfully fulfilled their contract and in some instances had done more than was agreed

Leffler, chairman of the sewer committee, reported about 3000 feet of sewer yet to be completed

The treasurer's report was read and on motion accepted and placed on file

The matter of the purchase of a fire alarm system was brought up and the presence of representives of the Gaynor and Gamewell systems was noted The exhibition of the two will be made tonight at the engine house, at 7 o'clock, and council adjourned until that hour to witness the exhibition.

Heart disease is by far the most frequent cause of sudden death, which in three out of four cases is unsuspected The symptoms are not generally understood.
